

Where Yo' People From?

Talk to you child about different family members and where they are from and/or where they live. Grab something to color with and have your child color in the states where your family is from and currently live. Then step back see how wide spread (or not) your family is across the U.S.

To read the blog post that inspired this activity go the August 4, 2020 post titled Down South: A Family Reunion at www.candidbrandon.com

